Telegraphic Items.

A dispatch from San Francisco, dated March 15th, to the Virginia Enterprise, has the following:

Duncan Cameron, at the Neptune Iron Works, will launch to-morrow a fast iron steamboat built for the Chapala and Rio Grande Steam Navigation Company of Mexico. She is ninety feet long and twenty-five beam; one mill; tonnage, 140; stern wheels, and will have two engines of 75 horse power. The agents in San Francisco are Hemsbell and Gilson. Two more steamers are contracted for; also, two steam saw mills. The boats will navigate Lake Chapala.

The Fenian ball at Union Hall, Monday nex', will be a grand affair. The hall is splendidly adorned. One feature is the suspension of 2,000 panoramic globes, of five colors, and of sizes varying from nine and twelve inches to four.

A correspondent of the Sacramento Union, writing from Rio Vista, March 11th, says:

On Sunday, March 10th, Miss Mary Markwood, who is about fifteen years of age, was killed about three miles from Rio Vista by falling from a horse. She was riding in company with two other girls. She and one of the others started at full speed, and Miss Markwood was seen to fall over backward, her skirts hanging to the saddle, dragging her some half a mile, mangling her horribly.

NEVADA LEGISLATURE.—The Enterprise has the following notice of the extra session of the Nevada Legislature:

The Legislature convened yesterday in extra session. The officers of the regular session were retained, and the only significant change was in the Committee on Ways and Means, in the Senate. The special message of the Governor was transmitted to the two Houses. It calls the attention of the Legislature to the financial condition of the State; says no provision has been made for the payment of the principal or interest of the debt created, or for defraying the expenses of the State Government for the ensuing two years; that the Constitution provides for a uniform and equal assessment and taxation of all property in the State; that mining property is not so assessed and taxed, and that the present Revenue law is therefore unconstitutional. The message does not suggest the character of the amendment required to remedy these evils, but recommends that the Revenue law be so amended as to accord with section ten of the State Constitution. No other business is authorized. Our reporter intimates a strong opposition to the suggestions of the Governor, and the possibility of the entire twenty days being consumed in fruitless discussion. The Houses will be ready for business to-day.

MAN DROWNED.—The Omaha Herald has the following:

On the 28th ult., John Morrison, of Forest City, while returning home from Omaha, was drowned in the East Papillion. Mr. Morrison was in company with Mr. John McBride, and on their approach to the stream at Giffen's Bridge, the stream being much swollen, and the water apparently running over the bridge. Morrison took one of the horses and attempted to cross, but was immediately carried down the stream, the bridge having been washed away. He rose to the surface but once, and then was carried under the ice, and was seen no more. His body has not yet been found. Mr. Morrison was a man respected and beloved by all who knew him. He leaves a wife and family in the State of New York, to deplore his loss.

PATRIOTIC.—We clip the following from the Atchison Free Press:

At the sale of the furniture and fixtures of the Kossuth House in this city a few days since, the picture of General Sherman was put under the hammer when ten cents was bid. The auctioneer began to cry, "only ten cents, ten cents; gentlemen it is a shame to let the picture of the war-worn hero sell for only ten cents, ten cents," etc., when Uncle Peter Young, who has fought "mit Siegel," shouted "fifty cents, it ish a schame, py tam, und Shineral Scherman's picture nichts prings less as fifty zents ven I pees on ter ground ven it selts fut dat much." The picture was struck off to Uncle Peter, and was considered by the crowd cheap enough at less than half the amount.

SAD ACCIDENT.—The Atchison Champion, of February 27th, says:

Day before yesterday at about 3 o'clock, two young women, named Lewelen and Jane Harley, the former aged about nineteen and the latter seventeen, were drowned in Sugar Creek lake, at Root's mills, nearly opposite this city. They started to cross the lake on the ice, and the younger sister breaking through, and before assistance could reach them, both were drowned. Their bodies were recovered about an hour afterwards, by F. M. Andrews and Andrew Hooper, who witnessed the accident, but were unable to reach the spot until too late to save them. The unfortunate girls are said to have been industrious and respectable. They were carrying home a tub when the accident happened.

THE water during the recent freshet in Vermont rose as high as the second story of a hotel in West Hartford, and a daughter of the proprietor was drowned. The wall of a paper mill at Greenville, Connecticut, was undermined by the freshet, and fell into the river. The damage by the heavy rains in the southwestern portion of Connecticut is estimated at $200,000.

A DESCENDANT of the great discoverer, his name also being Christopher Columbus, has taken possession of his father's estates and title, Duke of Veragua. Don Pedro Columbus, the father of young Christopher, who died recently, was the most famous cattle grower in Spain, and gained great reputation for his breed of fighting bulls.

SUDDEN DEATH.—On Friday night last, says the Wilmington Journal, Los Angeles county, March 9th, Mr. Prescott, chairman of Los Angeles, had invited a few friends to a social gathering at his residence in that city, and, engaging in the first set, he sat down upon a chair and suddenly expired.

A CASE in Rev. Mr. Spurgeon's church, in London, has placed £20,000 (about $100,000) in the hands, in trust, of trustees, for the benefit and relief of vagrant children. The investment is to be made on a first class real estate security in New York.

NINETEEN HUNDRED AND SIXTY-SEVEN.

The year 1867 promises to be an important one in the annals of the world, and prolific in strides towards the political if not moral regeneration of mankind. On every hand the nations are awaking to the rights of man. Old systems are passing away. The divine right of Kings and aristocracies, so long the accepted axiom of Europe, is being gravely questioned by the peoples trodden under foot. Russia is emerging from the system of serfdom, which was believed to be the basis of the throne of the Czar. The emancipation scheme voluntarily inaugurated by the Emperor, is one of the grandest events of modern times. That the most autocratic government of Europe should have been penetrated with the sentiments of civil liberty, which are looked for only in free countries where constitutional or republican principles hold sway, is as surprising as it is creditable to the enlightened and far-seeing ruler of the Russias. The recognition of the manhood of his subjects is gradually and peacefully working a greater transformation than usually result from bloody revolution. Millions of human beings heretofore regarded by the laws and society as mere chattels, stand erect in the image of their Creator, recognized as men, with at least some political and civil rights.

Crete, and the islands of the Mediterranean, writhing under the heel of Mahommedan despotism, civil and religious, are throwing off the hated yoke, amid the devastation and horrors of war. It cannot be doubted that the close of the year will see all the Greeks emancipated from Turkish rule. In this general advancement the result of the late Prusso-Austrian war plays no insignificant part. The leading principle in that conflict was the unity of peoples, a grand idea pressed to its legitimate conclusion by Bismarck, the greatest statesman and diplomat of the present generation. The emancipation of Germany from Austrian domination was not merely a change of tyrannies from one despot to another. It was the redemption of a whole people, infused with the spirit of civil liberty, which is each day making itself more and more felt throughout the new German empire. The late elections have shown the strength and the determination of the German communities towards liberalism.

In England the spirit of the age is abroad marching grandly on to victory long delayed. Under the inspiration and leadership of that Coeur de Leon of reform, John Bright, the people are asserting in thunder tones their rights, and on their banners is inscribed the motto of "Manhood suffrage." The monster meetings of the bone and sinew of London, Manchester, Liverpool, and other great marts of manufacture and commerce, have forced the Government to think seriously of suffrage reform, and do something towards liberalizing the aristocratic government in response to these unmistakable demands. There is no mistaking the demonstrations and determination of the English people engaged in this movement. If their demands be not in some measure acceded to, they will ere long wrest from the British crown an acknowledgment of their rights.

Ireland is in commotion, and whether the new born revolution shall be crushed with iron heel, and the star of the Irish Republic set in blood and ruin, or not, Britain must ere long release that poor land from despotism, and learn to treat its people as men and free-born subjects.

In the United States the emancipation of the slaves is being rapidly followed by investing them with civil and political rights. "Manhood suffrage" to-day has thousands of adherents from the ranks of those who, a short time since, sneered and jeered at it. Tennessee has already, through her Legislature, invested the freedmen with political rights. Nebraska, the newly admitted State, has done the same. Congress has declared by a two-thirds vote that the rebel States shall not again assume their sovereignty and enter the Union until every trace of distinction, on account of race or color, shall have been obliterated from their institutions.

Whether these several movements are wise and practical or not, they indicate that old things in Europe and America are passing away. The temper and spirit of the age are onward and upward, and the year 1867 is pregnant with great if not startling events.

DISTRICT COURT.—On Saturday the Court met pursuant to adjournment, and Judge Titus disposed of a large number of cases, mostly on appeal from the Probate Court, and which had been previously argued and submitted. We note the following:

F. Heath vs. Nathan White—Judgment of Probate Court affirmed. Notice of appeal to Supreme Court was given by counsel for Heath.

McCormick vs. Franklin and Wilde—Motion to dismiss overruled and defendant ordered to answer.

Bartholamew vs. Shipp—Judgment of Probate Court in favor of Shipp affirmed. Notice of appeal given.

Marshall & Carter vs. E. R. Youngs & Sons—Demurrer to answer sustained, and judgment for plaintiffs.

Teasdale vs. Lutz and wife, in equity on appeal from Probate Court—Motion to dismiss appeal overruled.

Bodenburg & Kahn vs. Brigham H. Young—Judgment of Probate Court affirmed.

Ben. Holladay vs. S. M. Blair—Demurrer to complaint argued and overruled and defendant ordered to answer.

A. R. Wright vs. Dickinson, Smith & Co., on appeal from Probate Court—Submitted.

Shrewsbury vs. Kerr, on appeal from Probate Court, argued at length by Messrs. Baskin and Hempstead and submitted. The argument occupied nearly the entire day, and at the conclusion the Court adjourned until the second Monday of April.

The Probate Court meets to-day.

[SPECIAL TO THE "DAILY UNION VEDETTE."]

Washington, March 22.

In the Senate, Cole introduced a bill to divide California into two Judicial Districts, referred to the Judiciary Committee.

Wilson offered a concurrent resolution, the preamble of which recites that as Jeff. Davis, who stands charged with the highest crime of conspiracy to murder Lincoln, and is also indicted for high treason, has persistently declared his innocence and demanded a speedy public trial; and concludes with a resolution that his longer confinement without trial is not in accordance with the demands of justice, or the spirit of the laws, or the requirements of the Constitution; and that justice and National honor unite in recommending that said Davis be brought to a speedy public trial, or released on bail sufficient to secure his appearance. Ordered printed, by 30 majority.

The Senate concurred in the House amendment to the joint resolution appropriating a million dollars for the relief of the destitute at the South.

Trumbull called up the bill to amend the Bankrupt bill by repealing the provision for the appointment of Registers of Bankruptcy by the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court. An amendment was offered by Anthony, providing that the Act shall not take effect until June 1st, but that Registers may be appointed at any time after the passage of the Act. The bill and amendment were referred to the Judiciary Committee.

The House amendment to the resolution for supplying Tennessee with arms, etc., was agreed to.

Senate adjourned.

In the House the resolution for the relief of the destitute of the South, after being amended in accordance with the report of the committee, was passed. It appropriates one million dollars.

The Peabody banquet at the Fifth Avenue hotel, last night, to General and Mrs. Grant and the Trustees of the Southern Educational Fund, was a grand affair. Mr. Peabody occupied the centre of the north table, with Admiral Farragut on his left and Mrs. Grant on his right. General Grant, Mrs. Farragut and Robert C. Winthrop were vis à vis of Mr. Peabody, Farragut and Mrs. Grant. Among the guests ware George Aiken of South Carolina, George Graham of North Carolina, General Anderson, Governor Clifford, Bishop McIlvaine, Governor Hamilton Fish, Mr. Astor, A. T. Stewart, and George Bancroft. The wives of a number of those, besides other ladies, were present. Mr. Peabody made a short speech and gave as a sentiment: "Our Country—Our whole Country: Its Chief Magistrate; Its Congress; Its Army and Navy, and their Commanders, who are with us here this evening." He was interrupted here with applause and the band playing National airs. Afterwards he added, "And the country in which I have long lived and prospered, and its honored and beloved Queen." Speeches were made by Winthrop, Bancroft, and others, and resolutions were adopted expressive of gratitude to Mr. Peabody for his princely donation.

New York, March 23.

The Roberts Senate of the Fenian Brotherhood disposed of the proposition for a union with the Gleason branch, yesterday. They are willing to unite and send supplies to Ireland if a revolution is actually in progress in that country; but the movement against Canada will not be relinquished.

The storm of Thursday was the severest known here for five years, and there is no sign this morning of its abating. The Australasian was unable to come in yesterday, and the Ocean Queen and Merrimac were unable to go out.

The Herald's special says it is reported that Sir Fredrick Bruce has been informed by the British Government that the sentences of the Canadian Fenians will be remitted.

The Times' special says that General Howard testified before the Judiciary Committee, yesterday, concerning the restoration of abandoned rebel property. He had himself prepared original orders for restoration, and submitted them to the President for approval. When they were returned to him he found them so much modified and changed as to establish a policy altogether different from the one he had recommended.

It appears that further inquiry as to the loyalty of Governor Thomas, Senator elect from Maryland, has been postponed until the next session of Congress.

The Times denies reports put in circulation that Leonard W. Jerome has failed, and that he has disposed of his interest in the Times establishment.

The Tribune's special denounces the late Reconstruction ratification meeting in Columbia, South Carolina, which was addressed by Wade Hampton, the former and pays the negro Beverley Nash, and his followers, are regarded as Copperheads.

The Tribune's special says General Sickles, while testimony before the Judiciary Committee concerning the restoration of property to rebels in South Carolina, said he acted upon direct orders issued through the War Department by the President. The amount of this property, very large, as it consisted of houses, lands, etc., which had been abandoned by rebels. All the property in the hands of Treasury Agents seized during the Rebellion, and which had been turned over to the rebels by order of the President. The Committee has gone very fully into this question, and the evidence thus far elicited shows that hundreds of millions worth of property has been turned over to the leading rebels without any warrant of law.

Winter Garden was entirely destroyed by fire to-day. All the properties of the Theatre, including the magnificent wardrobe of Edwin Booth, were consumed. The Southern Hotel, adjoining, was badly damaged. Loss, $30,000.

The Ocean Queen, from California, is still outside wind bound.

The Australasian, from Queenstown, March 10th, brings news that the Fenian movement was dying out, and that the entire north and west of Ireland were tranquil.

Woodstock, C. W., March 22.

A collision of the night express and a freight train occurred near Woodstock this morning. The Mail Agent was killed, and the conductor badly scalded. The express and mail car took fire, and everything inside was consumed.

Washington, March 23.

The Senate refused Chandler's request to take up the bill authorizing the sale of ships to any foreign government at peace with the United States.

Ramsey introduced a joint resolution instructing the Secretary of War to cause an examination to be made of the levees of the Mississippi river, from the mouth of the Ohio to the Gulf of Mexico and an estimate of the cost of repairing or reconstructing them. Referred to the Committee on Commerce.

Cole introduced a bill to promote forest tree culture on the plains, which was referred to the Committee on Agriculture.

Conness introduced a resolution requesting the Secretary of the Treasury to communicate such information as he may have relative to any proposed change in the Mint laws on the subject of refining gold and silver, and the public policies incident thereto. Adopted.

Ramsey called up the bill granting the American Telegraph Company, of New York, the right of way and the privilege to buy land and operate a submarine telegraph cable on the Atlantic coast of the United States, and to establish telegraphic communication between the United States and Europe, by way of Bermuda and the Azores Islands. Passed.

Wilson introduced a bill providing that there shall be no denial of the elective franchise to any male citizen of the United States by any State, on account of color or race, or of his previous condition, anything in its constitution or laws to the contrary notwithstanding. Ordered printed.

On motion of Trumbull, the Senate proceeded to consider the supplementary Reconstruction bill, and the President's veto thereto. The vote resulted, yeas, 40; nays, 7; and the bill, having received a two-thirds vote, passed.

In the House, the Senate amendment to House joint resolution providing for the importation, duty free, of objects of art imported for presentation to the United States Government, or any State Government, or municipal corporation, was concurred in.

Senate bill supplementary to the Act of June 16th, 1866, to reimburse West Virginia for war expenses, was passed. It confides the distribution of the money to the Secretary of War.

In the Senate Trumbull offered a concurrent resolution to adjourn on Tuesday to the first Monday of December next. Several amendments were offered, but lost. The resolution was finally adopted; 29 to 16.

Senate adjourned.

In the House, Myers' bill to increase the force of the Patent Office, by authorizing the appointment of additional examiners, when necessary, was passed.

The President's private secretary appeared and delivered a message vetoing the supplemental Reconstruction bill. Wilson, of Iowa, moved the previous question, which was seconded. The bill passed over the veto—114 to 25.

Blaine offered a concurrent resolution providing for an adjournment on Tuesday to November 11th. Blaine said it appeared settled that however bad a man Andy Johnson might be conceded to be, and whatever he may have done, the people don't consider it worth while to upturn the foundations of the Government in order to have the extraordinary spectacle of impeachment.

Stevens said the people expected the House to take steps toward impeachment. He said Blaine preferred Johnson as President to Ben. Wade.

Blaine acknowledged that he would prefer Fessenden, in the event of the removal of Johnson, but said it was wrong in Stevens to retail private conversation.

Garfield and Eldridge had a somewhat personal controversy. Some further discussion ensued, when the House refused to table the resolution, and without action, adjourned.

New York, March 23.

The extent of the failure of Robinson & Ogden has been exaggerated. It is believed the losses will not exceed $25,000.

Washington, March 23.

The trial of Surratt will probably not take place before June. The prisoner is anxious for a spring trial. No reason is assigned why the case is delayed.

A. H. Garland, ex-member of the Confederate Congress, has arrived in Washington. He has been elected Senator from Arkansas, and intends testing the right of the State's admission to representation before the Supreme Court.

The President's veto message objects generally to the provisions of the supplementary Reconstruction bill, especially the registry—persons being permitted to vote whose names are not registered. He says the military commanders could remove elections being representations of the popular will. He also says that both Reconstruction bills establish military coercion under martial law, and create political disfranchisement. He reiterates the views heretofore expressed in relation to the restoration of rebel States.

New York, March 23.

The Australasian brings dates to March 10th.

The Fenian movement was dying out. Wherever Fenians appeared the troops and constabulary dispersed them at once. A Cork paper says the Galtas mountains were still occupied by several thousand Fenians. It was not anticipated they would risk an encounter with the troops. There was no need to attempt to dislodge the insurgents, as they had no supplies, and could not long maintain themselves. A vague sense of insecurity, however, prevailed and it was impossible to say what might occur; for dealing with such an insurrection was not to be judged by the ordinary rules of common sense.

The remains of Artemus Ward were deposited in the vault of Kensal Green Cemetery, preparatory to being conveyed to America, in accordance with his desire.

New York, March 23.

The Fenian Senate is still in session. It is understood that preparations for the coming Canadian invasion occupied the principal part of its deliberations.

Pahranagat Mines.

SALT LAKE, March 23d, 1867.

Editor Vedette:—Thinking that a brief statement of facts gathered by observation in my recent sojourn of a few weeks at Pahranagat would not be altogether uninteresting to your many readers, and also that I may give a general answer to the numerous inquiries concerning it, I beg the indulgence of your columns, as the best medium available.

The first impression I had upon arriving in the Valley was not very favorable, owing perhaps to the monotonous appearance of the country, and the apparent stagnation in business; but a hasty glance around and a little posting up, made matters appear quite different. In the valley, however, one does not feel that buoyant spirit which he experiences at the mines, some twelve miles west. There the atmosphere and water is much more wholesome and invigorating than below, and there is also more of the usual stir and bustle incident to mining camps, which a miner expects to find in such localities. Although there are no mills yet in operation at these embryotic cities near the mines, or any great noise made about them, but, judging from appearances about Logan Springs, where Doctor Conger is operating, I should think that something was to be accomplished, as load after load of machinery was being delivered to him while I was there, and he assured me that he had plenty of work for, it as soon as it could be put up. By a perfect degree of system and order, coupled with great energy and untiring perseverance, the Doctor has erected smelting works there that are a credit to any place; but unfortunately the character of ore so changed below the surface, that he was compelled to abandon the smelting process. The furnaces, however, he informs me, are even now necessary, in connection with his mill process, for an economical working of certain classes of ores, which are quite abundant in all of the mines, as far as shown by developements.

The Pioneer Company, represented by Mr. Raymond, located their mill in the valley, distanced from the mines about twelve miles, necessitating, by such a move, quite a heavy additional expense in getting their ore and wood down; and many are of the opinion that it would have been much better for the Company to have expended some money in prospecting for water near the mines, rather than pay the perpetual and heavy tax on wood and ore. However this may ultimately prove, the Company still seem satisfied with their location, and are very sanguine of great success.

Messrs. Nichols & Kennedy are prospecting vigorously for water in Silver Canon, and are confident that their labors will prove a success, from the fact that they have already struck a vein from which flows about one thousand gallons of water per day. It is to be hoped that with their indomitable energy and untiring perseverance they may succeed in finding water sufficient for milling purposes, as Dr. Conder and W. L. Bidwell have done.

The Crescent Silver Mining Company, represented by Mr. Julius A. Bidwell, are pushing forward the developement of their mine with vigor, and are also making preparations for their mill at the Hatfield Ranch, where abundance of water has been obtained at a trifling expense, and only about one mile from their mine. This indeed is very fortunate for the Company; and, with the able management of Mr. Bidwell, it can hardly fail of success. The water question is all-important in this district—and had other companies more duly considered its importance near to their mines, it no doubt would have been much better for them and the district.

In regard to the richness and extent of the mines in this district, a great deal has already been said, and very much, no doubt, based more upon hope than knowledge. To satisfy myself respecting these statements, in company with others, I visited the Illinois, Webster, Virgin Silver, Utah, Bay State, Cincinnati, Ely & Sanderson, and many others; but as the above are considered the most promising, by many, upon the eastern slope of the mountain, I make notice of them only. Upon the Illinois we found three tunnels, running into it, being prosecuted with considerable vigor. In the lower one, some sixty feet under the out-croppings, nothing had, as yet, been struck; but in the middle tunnel, which cuts the lode some fifty feet below its summit and out-croppings, a small vein of silver ore had been struck, but of rather a rebellious character. Also, on the croppings at the summit, some indications of rich ore were observed. It is to be hoped that this lode, when developed, will prove all that the Company could desire.

A shaft was being sunk in the Webster, and some prospecting being done on the Virgin Silver—both of which carry very rich ore at the surface. On the Cincinnati, and Ely & Sanderson, work for the present had been suspended.

Having spent some time in this part of the district very agreeably, I gladly accepted an invitation from the able and gentlemanly superintendent of the Alameda Silver Mining Company, Dr. O. H. Conger, to visit the wonderful List Lode, of which I had heard so much about. This lode is situated about three miles from their works, on the western slope of the mountain. After having heard so much in regard to it, I really was not prepared to see such bold and continuous rich out-croppings as it presented. It is quite unlike any upon the opposite slope, in most of its physical features. And what is very singular, not an indication of another lode is found within a mile of it in any direction. Its discovery was also quite singular, and in many respects remarkable. An Indian by some means became dreadfully frightened, and came to the gentleman whose name it bears for protection, and, as an inducement to secure protection, offered to show him "pana-ica," their name for any kind of ore, which resulted in the discovery of the lode.

Dr. Conder's great caution, experience and metallurgical knowledge, has given him great advantage over many others in determining the value of a mine to a certain degree, and the company he represents cannot too highly estimate his services. That district as well as others need more of that class of managers, for they would soon ascertain the value or worthlessness of a mine. The List Lode has undoubtedly no second in point of richness and apparent permanence, in any portion of the West—standing preeminently above all others in that district, as now developed. The Doctor has taken out at least fifty thousand dollars' worth of ore, already for crushing. When I first arrived at Pahranagat an interest in it could have been obtained at one hundred dollars per foot; but now it is held at five hundred, and even at that price I can see no object for the lucky owners to sell. Upon the Doctor's return from Europe, as he purposes attending the great Paris Exposition, he contemplates putting up at least a twenty stamp mill, which he informs me is certainly small enough, and forty stamps would be none too many, in view of the mass of ore already exposed. Notwithstanding the conflicting accounts from this district, and the wild cat operations that have fastened upon it, yet in my opinion it has a bright future.

Respectfully yours,

WM. W. HENRY.

Local and Miscellaneous.

ADVERTISERS.—THE VEDETTE is the pioneer newspaper of Utah. Its extensive circulation in the mining camp and city of Montana and Idaho, (which gives the telegraphic despatches a whole week ahead of the Pacific papers,) makes it the most prominent medium for advertising in these four Territories.

TRADING DULL.—Yesterday was indeed a dull day. Every place of business was closed, all the saloons and stores were like ghost sepulchres, even the drug stores were closed, nothing was open, save the telegraph and Wells, Fargo & Co.'s offices. Persons were seen standing on corners that never were there before. The Tabernacle was open, but Brigham did not hold forth, it presented but little attraction to the outside world. The very heavens frowned during the day, and the dark and heavy clouds gave hourly strong evidences of an approaching storm. Towards evening the loiterers crowded wended their way home, and the city settled with all the quietude of a Sabbath evening.

SHOOTING.—Mr. James Boyle, the stage driver who accidentally shot himself in the leg a short time since, was out on the streets last Saturday. He has not recovered the use of his hand yet, but through the surgical skill of Dr. Bell, the wound is healing fast, and amputation was not necessary as at first anticipated, for fortunately the bones of the wrist were not touched by the ball. Mr. Boyle has suffered much, and it will be some time before he will be able to handle a rein.

PANAGAT.—In to-day's paper will be found an interesting letter relative to Pahranagat mining and mines. It was written by a gentleman well known in this city, Mr. Wm. Emery, of the firm of M'Grorty & Henry. Communications are always acceptable, and particularly those bearing upon our mining interests. We wish our readers abroad to have the benefit of the opinions of different men as they can then judge for themselves of the richness of our mineral resources.

DEATH.—Adam Aulbach, who for over a year has been employed in the office of the Vedette as compositor, left on the eastern stage yesterday to visit his friends, from whom he has been long absent. He was a veteran in the Nevada Cavalry, and after his term of service received an honorable discharge. We bim him God-speed.

THE FIRE IN NEW YORK.—On Saturday, 16th inst., the Winter Garden Theatre in New York, was entirely destroyed by fire and other properties, including the magnificent wardrobe of Edwin Booth, was consumed. The Southern Hotel, adjoining, was badly damaged. Loss, $300,000.

THE DESTRUCTION BILL PASSED.—On the 23d ult. the Senate passed the Supplemental Reconstruction bill over the President's veto, by a vote of 40 to 7, and in the House by a vote of 138 to 25, and therefore it now becomes a law.

A RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—A collision occurred on the 22d inst., on the railroad near Woodbridge, N. J., between the night express and a freight train, killing the mail agent and badly injuring the conductor. The express mail car took fire, and its contents were consumed.

THE MAIL.—The coach from the East arrived yesterday afternoon with a large mail, which, late for the benefit of our readers to-day, the post-office was closed, but our readers to-morrow will contain the news.

THE GOVERNMENT OF CONGRESS.—Trumbull's reconstruction resolution to adjourn on Tuesday next to the first Monday in December, was defeated in the Senate by a vote of 29 to 16.

JOHN BROWN, late of the Nevada Cavalry, is here to hear of something to his advantage by addressing J. M. Fulton, VEDETTE office.

Salmon River.

The following interesting particulars relative to the Salmon River mines appears in the editorial columns of the Lewiston Journal of the 1st:

"John Day creek, there are three ditches now constructed, all of whose waters are doing good work, yielding to their proprietors from $8 to $15 to the hand.

"On Jordan creek, one ditch is supplying the power for a saw mill capable of cutting five thousand feet of lumber per day, and supplying the ground about a mile below, where extensive mines are being made.

"Canyon creek, a short distance below, Jordan creek, supplies the claims of Sleppy & Co., which have realized a handsome income from their claims for more than two years past, and have not began to exhaust their wealth.

"On Skookum Chuck a ditch is being constructed to supply the ground on Horse Shoe bench, which will cost $20,000, perhaps more, as the ditch is large and must cut through rock, and the extent of ground will require some 50,000 feet of lumber. The extent of ground to be supplied is sufficient for many years steady mining, and pay well. This ditch is owned by F. Burke & Co., and Charles White, and will be completed before the 1st of June.

"On the same creek a French company are constructing a large ditch to a high bar on the river, about one mile above where the Bird trail touches Salmon river. They now have the greater part of their ditch completed. They have constructed a flume upon the same creek, where they will saw their lumber for flooming. Louis Bonnet & Co. are the proprietors of this enterprise. About one half mile below the Bird trail are the Casaboris claims, employing six men averaging $8 per day each."

This Company having greatly enlarged their Refining Works, and introduced many other important improvements, are pleased to announce that they feel warranted in again reducing materially their terms of doing business.

The Tariff of Charges

Which they now submit to the public—considered with reference to the cost of material and labor—is lower than in any other part of the world, and secures to the mining interest of this coast an important increase in both the minting and commercial value of bullion.

Their charges hereafter will be as follows:

For Assaying Deposits for Unparted Gold Bars.

One-eighth of one per cent. (heretofore a quarter) for all amounts over $1,600, and two dollars for any smaller sum. Returns made in twenty-four hours.

For Assaying Deposits for Unparted Silver Bars.

Two dollars for the gold contained, up to $1,600, and one-eighth of one per cent. for all amounts over that sum, and one per cent. on the silver contained. Returns made in twenty-four hours.

For Refining Deposits made for Coin or Fine Bars.

On bullion under 300 parts gold, 2 cents per ounce.
On bullion from 300½@600 parts gold, 4 cents per ounce.
On bullion from 600½@750 parts gold, 6 cents per ounce.
On bullion from 750½@949½ parts gold, 8 cents per ounce.
Above 950 the only charge will be for coinage. But there will be no charge for refining less than two dollars.

For Coining Gold.

This charge will be the same as at the Mint—a half of one per cent.—and which is paid by us to that institution. But there will be no charge in future for making fine gold or silver bars from bullion refined by us.

Returns in Coin Made in Forty-Eight Hours.

Silver contained in deposits for coin will be accounted for at the same rate customary at the Mint.

Gold bars of other Assayers in good standing, will be cashed by us at the highest market rates.

Dust and bullion can be forwarded to us from any part of the country, and returns made through Wells, Fargo & Co.'s Express.

Charges at U. S. Branch Mint.

For the convenience of those not familiar with the terms of the Mint, we subjoin the tariff of charges now in force at that Institution:

For refining bullion under 300 parts gold, 3 cents per ounce.
For refining bullion from 300½@600 parts gold, 5 cents per ounce.
For refining bullion from 600½@750 parts gold, 7 cents per ounce.
For refining bullion from 750½@830 parts gold, 11 cents per ounce.
For refining bullion from 830½@949½ parts gold, 14 cents per ounce.

The charge for coinage is half of one per cent., and the charge for making fine silver bars, the same.

Comparing the net value of deposits for coinage, with the proceeds of unparted gold bars sold in the market—assuming that the bars have cost ¼ of one per cent.—they must be sold at the following par rates to equal the return which would have been made had they been deposited for coinage:

830 par to equal Mint return, at refining charge of 14 cents.
845 par to equal Mint return, at refining charge of 11 cents.
865 par to equal San Francisco A. & R. Works return, at refining charge of 8 cents. [mr21-3m-ls arrested (colored) and arrested yesterday by Chief of Police Jerome Myers, on a charge of stealing a valuable pair of cashmere pantaloons from the store of Owens, Moore & Coghill. The officer procured a search warrant and found the pantaloons in the house dwelling on Market street, between El Dorado and Center streets. He stoutly denied having stolen the pants and swore that he bought them from a Jew; and even went so far as to accompany the officer to a clothing store to prove the purchase. But the storekeeper denied ever having sold pantaloons of the kind for the very good reason that they were of a kind that he never had in his store. Failing to convince the officer that the pants were honestly procured, Arthur was marched before Justice Baldwin, where he acknowledged the theft, stating, in justification of the act, that he had been employed to pump water out of the cellar of Owens, Moore & Coghill's store, and that the firm failed to pay him what he asked for the labor, so he nipped the pantaloons to get even. Arthur has been arrested before for doing a sort of legitimate chicken business. He will be sentenced to-day.—Stockton Independent., March 12th.

It was wrong in Mr. Owens not paying Arthur full value for pumping, and it was vety ungrateful in Arthur to steal the pants, for gemmen of color have often been entertained in the merchant's parlor, wine and cake passed around, and his own daughters performed on the piano for the edification of Sambo.

W. B. Hibbard, Esq., of Omaha, has been appointed Superintendent of the Eleventh District (Chicago to Salt Lake City), of the Western Union Telegraph Company, vice Edward Creighton. Mr. Hibbard has been Assistant Superintendent for the past three years; is well qualified for the position, and a very popular officer among the employees of the company.

A BILL has passed both houses of the Kansas legislature, regulating fare on railroads in that State at five cents a mile, and first-class freight at sixty cents per hundred miles; second-class at fifty cents, and third-class at forty cents. It is expected that the railroad companies will test the law in the case.

GOOD resolutions were numerous in Boston on New Year's day, and on the Saturday following, the Five Cent Savings Bank in that city received $31,000 in deposits, which is said to be the largest amount ever taken in one day by any savings bank in the city.

THE Denver-bound United States Express coach was driven into a lake about four miles from town, Wednesday night. The mails were brought in on a wagon, and the coach left until daylight.—Denver Daily March 8th.
